OBJECTS OF THE LAW SCHOOL

The Cornell Law School was founded in 1887. Its purpose is to give students a training which will qualify them to practice law and to play a part in the improvement of the law.

Experience has demonstrated that a broad yet intensive training in the operation of the common law, supplemented by guidance in the examination of local peculiarities, enables students to qualify for admission to the bar in any of the states, and produces a higher type of lawyer than does instruction based primarily on the statutes and decisions of a single state. The aim of the school is not solely to give information, nor solely to train the minds of its students. Its Faculty believes that legal education should combine discipline in legal reasoning with the accumulation of comprehensive knowledge of legal rules and principles and their social significance. The case system of instruction is used, supplemented by collateral reading and, in some courses, by the preparation of reports. Some advance courses are conducted as seminars in order to give students an opportunity to do independent work under guidance.

It is considered especially advantageous that graduate work in law is organized under the general direction of the Faculty of the Graduate School. This method of organization enriches the opportunities for graduate students in law by enabling them to correlate with their work in law work in allied fields in other departments of the University, such as those in philosophy, history, government, business and finance.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Forms of application for admission will be furnished by the Secretary of the School upon request. All applicants for admission, except candidates for advanced degrees, must supply the information requested in this form. The applicant's mental ability, character and personality will be considered in passing upon his application for admission.

CANDIDATES FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF LAWS

Applicants for admission as regular first year students are required to present evidence of the receipt of a bachelor's degree from an approved college or university; except that students in the College of Arts and Sciences of Cornell University are allowed in their senior year to elect the first year of the Law course, and in this way to obtain the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws in six years.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Applicants who are twenty-one years of age may, in the discretion of the Faculty, be admitted to the Law School as special students not candidates for a degree. This privilege will be granted only upon written application, specifying the age of the applicant, and the amount and character of preparatory study, previous law study, and business experience which the applicant has had, accompanied, if practicable, with certificates from the preparatory school, law school, attorney, or business man under whose direction work has been done. Applicants are advised to correspond with the Secretary of the Law School before presenting themselves in person.

ADVANCED STANDING

Students who have satisfied the entrance requirements for regular first year students, and who have successfully completed one or more years of law work in a law school of approved standing, may, in the discretion of the Faculty, be admitted to advanced standing on such conditions as the Faculty may prescribe. Advanced standing beyond the second year is granted only in cases of exceptional merit.

STUDENTS FROM OTHER COLLEGES IN CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Subject to the regulations of the colleges in which they are registered and of the Law School, students from other colleges of the University may elect work in the Law School, but such students are not permitted to do so before the beginning of their senior year, except upon presentation of special reasons to the Dean of the Law Faculty. Work permitted to be taken in the Law School may not be counted towards the law degree except when taken by a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, registered as a first year student in the law school. Students from other colleges who elect work in the Law School (except those who, in their senior year, elect the whole of the first year work) should, before making their election of courses, advise with the Dean of the Law Faculty as to the subjects to be elected and the order in which they should be taken.

THE SUMMER SESSION

The Law School offers during each summer a session of eleven weeks duration, divided into two terms of five and one-half weeks each. The schedule of courses is so arranged that students may attend both terms or either term alone. New students may commence the study of law at the beginning of the summer session. A summer session is the equivalent of one-third of an academic year.

The courses offered in the summer session have the same content and are conducted in the same manner as those given during the regular college year. All credit received in the summer session by students regularly admitted to the Law School as candidates for the LL.B. degree will be counted towards the degree.

The purposes of the summer session are: (1) to enable law students to shorten the time required for graduation by continuing the study of law during the summer; (2) to make it possible for students to secure additional law courses in the summer, or courses which they are unable to complete during the regular academic year; (3) to offer an opportunity for law study to students who are unable to attend at other seasons; (4) to make it possible for students to commence the study of law in September or June.

A separate announcement, issued for each summer session, may be obtained by writing to the Secretary of the Law School.

GRADUATE WORK IN LAW

ORGANIZATION. Graduate work in law is organized under the general direction of the Faculty of the Graduate School. Within that Faculty a Law Group (Group H) has been set up, consisting of the members of the Faculty of the Law School and the Chairmen of the Departments of History, Philosophy, Economics, and Government, in which group is vested authority to establish and administer rules for admission and graduation of candidates for graduate degrees in Law. "Faculty" as used in the following paragraphs means the Law Group.

ADMISSION. One who has met the requirements for admission to the Cornell Law School, and who has received the degree of Bachelor of Laws or an equivalent degree from a law school qualified for membership in the Association of American Law Schools, may petition for admission to the Graduate School as a candidate for the degree Master of Laws (LL.M.), or for the degree Doctor of the Science of Law (J.S.D.). The petition should state the purpose for which graduate work is desired. Foreign students may be admitted to the Graduate School as candidates for these degrees, by the vote of the Faculty, if, in the opinion of the Faculty, they have had a training substantially equivalent to the requirements set forth in this paragraph.

PURPOSES. Work for the Master's degree is intended primarily for those in practice or intending to enter practice, who desire to increase their knowledge of the law by intensive work in special fields. Work leading to the Doctor's degree is planned to train legal scholars, and to stimulate original investigation which shall constitute a contribution to the scientific study of law, and to the solution of problems in the fields of the administration of the law, and of law reform. The Faculty may prescribe for candidates for either degree courses in fields allied to law, but given in other departments of the University, such as those in philosophy, history, government, business and finance, which are germane to the work undertaken.

MASTER OF LAWS. To receive the degree Master of Laws, the candidate shall be in residence at least one academic year and shall obtain at least twenty credit hours or their equivalent with high merit in courses or special work chosen with the approval of the Faculty. A comprehensive examination on the work of the year may be required.

DOCTOR OF THE SCIENCE OF LAW. To receive the degree Doctor of the Science of Law, the candidate shall be in residence at least one academic year; shall pursue with distinction such graduate or advanced courses as shall be prescribed by the Faculty; shall engage in such independent investigation in some field of law under the direction of a member or members of the Faculty as shall be determined by that body, the results of such investigation to be embodied in one or more essays which shall be creditable contributions to legal scholarship, and a copy of which shall be deposited in the Law Library; and shall pass a comprehensive oral examination on the work pursued. It is desirable that candidates for this degree shall have had some practical or teaching experience after obtaining a first degree in law.

THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

THREE-YEAR COURSE. The completion of the course of instruction in law requires attendance for three academic years, of about thirty-two weeks each, or the equivalent in summer session attendance.

In order to graduate, a student (except as provided in the next two paragraphs) must have earned not less than 82 hours of credit, and not less than 82 merit points.

A student whose merit points stand to his credit hours in the ratio of 2 to 1 or better, at the end of his fourth term, may graduate with 78 credit hours instead of 82.

A student whose merit points stand to his credit hours in the ratio of 1.65 to 1 or better, and less than 2 to 1, at the end of his fifth term, may graduate with 80 credit hours instead of 82.

Note.—The purpose of these rules is to give opportunity for students who manifest superior ability to engage in informal study, with the aid of members of the faculty.

A student who has earned the necessary credit hours, and whose merit points at the end of his course stand to his credit hours in the ratio of 2.2 to 1, or better, may be recommended for graduation with honors.

The following grades are given in the law school: A, excellent; B, good; C, fair; D, poor; F, failure. AA may be given in case of exceptional excellence.

Merit points are awarded to each student in the Law School, as follows: for each hour of work in which the student received a grade of AA, four merit points; for each hour of A, three points; for each hour of B, two points; for each hour of C, one point; and for each hour of D or F, no points.

SIX-YEAR COMBINED COURSE. It is possible to obtain the degrees of A.B. and LL.B. at Cornell in six years. The first three years are spent exclusively in the College of Arts and Sciences. Under the rules of the latter college qualified seniors in Arts are allowed to elect all their work in the Law School and receive the A.B. degree upon the successful completion of the first year of the law course. By spending two additional years in the Law School, the student may receive the LL.B. degree.

GRADUATE WORK IN LAW. Students who are candidates for the degree LL.M., or J.S.D. must be in residence at least one academic year. See the provision more fully set forth on p. 7.

FIRST YEAR

1. Contract. Three hours throughout the year. Six credit hours. Huffcut and Woodruff's Cases on Contract (4th ed.). Professor THOMPSON. Credit will be given only for the entire course. Students will not be admitted in the second term.

History and development of the common law of contract, with emphasis upon the modern movements in this field of the law. Principles controlling the formation, operation and termination of the contractual obligation, and the legal consequences of breach of contract are discussed in detail. The subject is fundamental and is a necessary preliminary to various subjects which involve special applications of contract law and are separately treated later in the law course. The study of the application of equitable remedies to breach of contract is embodied in the course in equity.

2. Agency. Second term. Three hours. Huffcut's Cases on Agency (3d ed.). Professor WHITESIDE.

This course deals with contracts formed through a representative; the creation and termination of the relation of agency; the rights and duties of the principal, the agent and the other party to the contract, in respect to one another; and the law of master and servant.

3. Torts. Three hours throughout the year. Six credit hours. Wilson's Cases on Torts. Professor WILSON. Credit will be given only for the entire course. Students will not be admitted in the second term.

A general treatment of the basic principles of civil wrongs arising from breaches of certain socially imposed duties as contradistinguished from duties voluntarily assumed by contract. Interference with person or property, including conversion; negligence; legal cause; defamation; deceit; liability not based on fault; interference with social and business relations, (such as inducing breaches of duty, competition, strikes, boycotts and the like); and duties arising from the possession of land are among the topics discussed.

4. Criminal Law. Second term. Three hours. Sayre's Cases on Criminal Law. Professor EDGERTON.

The criminal act; attempts; consent; culpability; justification; principals and accessories; and the principal classes of crimes.

5. Property 1a. First term. Four hours. Bigelow's Cases on Personal Property, Introduction to Law of Real Property, and Cases on Rights in Land. Professor FARNHAM.

Definition of fundamental terms—property, ownership, possession; classification of property; possessory interests in or partial ownership of chattels, including "lost" chattels, bailments, common law liens, and pledges; acquisition of complete ownership in chattels by taking possession, by adverse possession, by accession, by confusion, by judgment, by election of remedy, by satisfaction of judgment, and by gift; transformation of real property into personal property and of personal property into real property, including fixtures and perennial and annual crops.

Introduction to the law of real property; rights in land incidental to possession, including waters; rights in the land of another, including profits, easements, and licenses.

6. Property 1b. Second term. Two hours. Aigler's Cases on Titles. Professor FARNHAM.

Derivative Titles, including estates created, execution of deeds, and the property conveyed.

7. Legal History, including the Evolution of Procedure. First term. Four hours. Plucknett's Concise History of the Common Law; Sunderland's Cases on Common Law Pleading; and assigned readings. Professor WHITESIDE.

The first part of the course is designed to introduce the student to the history and system of the common law. It will include a study of selections from the Year Books and important statutes, together with the development of common law institutions. It is also intended to familiarize the student with the historical literature of the common law.

The second part treats of the place of procedure in the law; the outgrowth of the common law forms of action from the writ system and the influence of the writ system on the substantive law of rights; development of the formulary system; modern statutory forms of action; nature of the transition from the common law forms of action to the simplified statement of the cause of action under the codes and practice acts.

SECOND AND THIRD YEARS

20. Property II. Second term. Four hours. Elective. Aigler's Cases on Titles; Bigelow's Cases on Rights in Land. Professor FARNHAM.

Original titles, including possessory titles, prescription and accretion; covenants for title; estoppel by deed; priorities; covenants running with the land including enforcement at law and in equity, and between landlord and tenant and between owners in fee; rents; waste; public rights in streams and highways.

21. Negotiable Paper. First term. Three hours. Elective. Smith and Moore's Cases on Bills and Notes (2d ed.). Professor ROBINSON.

History and development of the law of negotiable instruments from the law merchant, through the common law and into its present codified state in the Uniform Negotiable Instruments Law; the formal requisites of bills, notes and checks; negotiation; the obligations of the parties to such paper; the necessary steps to perfect the holder's rights; and the discharge of negotiable instruments.

22. Wills and Probate Law. Second term. Two hours. Elective. Case book to be announced. Professor LAUBE.

The right to dispose of property by will and the nature of the modern testamentary instrument; the formalities for the execution and revocation of a will; the various classes of legacies and devises; the nature, jurisdiction, and procedure of probate courts in the administration of decedents' estates.

23a. Equity I. First term. Three hours. Required of second year students. Cook's Cases in Equity, Vol. I. Professor STEVENS.

The course involves a study of the origin, nature, and fundamental principles of equity jurisdiction.

23b. Equity II. Second term. Three hours. Required of second year students. Cook's Cases in Equity, Vol. II. Professor STEVENS.

A consideration of the remedy of specific performance and defences thereto.

24. Insurance. Second term. Two hours. Elective. Woodruff's Cases on Insurance (2d ed.). Professor ROBINSON.

The special subject-matter treated is the insurance contract, and the peculiar applications of the principles of contract, agency, evidence, and equity to this species of contractual obligation. The contracts of fire and life insurance are selected for detailed study; and statutory provisions affecting insurance contracts are considered.

25. Domestic Relations and the Law of Persons. First term. Two hours. Elective. Woodruff's Cases on Domestic Relations and the Law of Persons (3d ed.). Professor EDGERTON.

The law of husband and wife, including marriage and divorce; parent and child; and the legal disabilities of infants.

26. Evidence. First term. Four hours. Required for graduation. Open to students either in the second or third year. Wigmore's Cases on Evidence (2d ed.). Professor WILSON.

This course includes in general all questions relating to evidence in both civil and criminal cases. It deals with judicial notice, presumptions, admissions, relevancy, and the rule against hearsay with its exceptions. It also covers opinion evidence, real evidence, documentary evidence, the best evidence rule, the parol evidence rule, and the examination of witnesses.

26a. Exercises in Pleading and Evidence. Second term. One hour. Elective. Open to students who have passed the course in Evidence and who are also concurrently taking the course in Pleading. Professors THOMPSON and WILSON.

27. Sales. First term. Three hours. Elective. Woodward's Cases on Sales (2d ed.). Assistant Professor MACDONALD.

This course is concerned with the formation of the contract of sale of personal property; the respective rights and duties of buyer and seller regarding the performance of the contract; the origin and incidents of warranties regarding the goods sold; conditional sales; and the remedies open to buyer and seller, respectively, in the various contingencies incidental to sales of goods.

28. Pleading. Second term. Four hours. Required of second year students. Sunderland's Cases on Common Law Pleading, selected cases on equity pleading, and Hinton's Cases on Code Pleading (2d ed.). Professor THOMPSON.

The object of this course is to present in a comprehensive way the development of the subject of pleading in the common law system. A comparative study is made of common law and equity pleading with special emphasis upon the modification and improvements effected therein by the code system and under the modern practice acts. Procedural reform movements both in England and in this country are studied with a view to stimulating a constructive interest in the formative growth of the law of pleading in civil actions. Students are taught to apply the content of the course by drafting copies of the pleadings studied.

29. Civil Practice. Second term. Three hours. Elective to third year students. Case books to be announced and assigned cases. Assistant Professor MACDONALD.

A course in modern state and federal civil practice as founded upon the common law and as changed or modified by state and federal statutes and by rules of court. The course is designed to present the problem of judicial organization and administration, and the steps taken in a civil action from the issuance of process to the satisfaction of judgment. While New York practice is emphasized, a comparative study is made with typical systems of practice in other American states, thus making the course of value not only to the students from New York, but also to those of other jurisdictions. The drafting of common practice papers is an important feature of the course.

30. Mortgages. First term. Two hours. Elective. Durfee's Cases on Mortgages. Professor LAUBE.

This course includes a discussion of the history and development of the modern mortgage, including equitable liens, with a detailed study of mortgage law in its present day application; it also includes an examination of the procedure for the foreclosure of the mortgage.

31. Suretyship. Second term. Two hours. Elective. Arant's Cases on Suretyship. Professor LAUBE.

A discussion of the law of principal and surety, arising from contract or otherwise. Among the topics considered are, the nature of the obligation of suretyship, the guarantor's and indorser's liability, and subrogation.

32a. Partnership. First term. Two hours. Elective. Case book to be announced. Professor FARNHAM.

This course deals with the law of partnership both at common law and under the Uniform Partnership Acts; some consideration being given to limited partnerships, joint stock companies, and business trusts.

32b. Private Corporations. First term. Four hours. Elective to third year students. Richard's Cases on Corporations (2d ed.). Professor STEVENS.

In this course a study is made of the law of private business corporations; their promotion, de facto corporations, ultra vires action, liability for torts and crimes, the rights and liabilities of officers, stockholders, and creditors, and the reorganization, consolidation, and dissolution of corporations.

32c. Problems in Corporation Law. Second term. One hour. Elective to third year students with the consent of the instructor. The satisfactory completion of a course in Private Corporations is a prerequisite. Professor STEVENS.

Supervised individual study of particular problems, preparation of reports and group conferences.

33. Quasi-Contracts. First term. Two hours. Elective. Woodruff's Cases on Quasi-Contracts (2d ed.). Professor LAUBE.

The rectification of unjust enrichment through the contract forms of action; comparison of this kind of relief with other forms available.

34. Law of Public Service and Carriers. Second term. Three hours. Elective. C. K. Burdick's Cases on Public Service and Carriers (2d ed.). Professor EDGERTON.

Basis and extent of the duties of public service; validity of rates fixed by the company, and by the state; discrimination, adequate facilities, and withdrawal from service; the peculiar duties and liabilities of common carriers.

35. Constitutional Law. First term. Four hours. Required for graduation. Hall's Cases on Constitutional Law, with Supplement. Professor BURDICK.

Making and changing constitutions; judicial enforcement of the constitution; separation and delegation of powers; guarantees of personal rights; due process and equal protection; police power, taxation, and eminent domain; federal powers; citizenship and suffrage; foreign relations, Indians and aliens; territories and new states; interstate commerce; intergovernmental relations. (See the material on page 14 as to related courses in the College of Arts and Sciences.)

38. Future Interests. First term. Three hours. Elective to third year students. Kale's Cases on Future Interests, and assigned cases. Professor WHITE-SIDE.

Classification of future interests in property; creation and characteristics of the various kinds of future interests; construction of limitations; the Rule against Perpetuities; Suspension of the Power of Alienation under the statutes of New York and other jurisdictions; Restraints on Alienation.

39. Trusts. Second term. Four hours. Elective. Scott's Cases on Trusts. Assistant Professor MACDONALD.

Distinctions between the trust and other relationships; creation and elements of the trust; the trustee and the beneficiary, and their respective rights, duties, and powers; the termination of the trust.

41. Conflict of Laws. Second term. Three hours. Elective to third year students. Beale's Cases on Conflict of Laws (one volume). (2d ed.) Professor ROBINSON.

This course includes discussion of the principles governing the choice of rules to be applied in determining questions "concerning the rights of persons within the territory of one nation or state, by reason of acts, private or public, done within the dominion of another nation or state."

42. Municipal Corporations. (Omitted 1930-31). Two hours. Elective. Case book to be announced. Assistant Professor MACDONALD.

Creation, control, alteration, and dissolution of municipal corporations; their charters, proceedings, officers, and agents; their powers and liabilities; taxation and indebtedness.

43. Administrative Law. First term. Two hours. Elective. Freund's Cases on Administrative Law. Assistant Professor MACDONALD.

Executive functions, administrative discretion, notice, hearing and evidence, jurisdiction, conclusiveness of determination, and judicial control.

46. International Law. Second term. Two hours. Elective. Scott's Cases on International Law. Professor BURDICK.

A discussion of the rights and duties of nations and their subjects or citizens in time of peace or war, where international questions are involved.

48. Trade Regulation. First term. Two hours. Elective. Olipphant's Cases on Trade Regulation, and assigned cases. Professor EDGERTON.

Competitive practices in regard to trade marks and trade names, advertising, price fixing, boycotting, etc.; and contracts and combinations in restraint of trade.

50. Jurisprudence. First term. Two hours. Elective to third year students. Assigned reading and selected cases. Professor LAUBE.

An examination of the nature and end of law, its sources, its forms, its scope, its application, and its growth.

50a. Problems in Jurisprudence. Second term. One hour. Open to graduate and selected third year students. Professor LAUBE.

51. Admiralty. First term. Two hours. Elective. Lord and Sprague's Cases on Admiralty. Professor ROBINSON.

This course deals with the jurisdiction of the admiralty courts of the United States; with maritime liens, with the rights of maritime workers, with the carriage of goods by general and by chartered ships, and with the principles of liability and its limitation which are peculiar to the admiralty law. Salvage, general average and the principles governing collision will be covered in only a general way.

THE CORNELL LAW QUARTERLY

This legal periodical is published in December, February, April, and June by the Faculty and students of the Law School. It contains articles on important legal problems, student notes, and book reviews. The student editors are selected on the basis of their Law School records and aptitude for research.

Recent cases of novelty or peculiar interest are found by the student board through examination of the advance sheets of the Reporters. Each student editor is assigned to work on one of these cases under the guidance of a member of the Faculty. The object is to analyze the problem involved, to collate the authorities, and to prepare a brief commentary on the decision and its significance. This work trains the editors in the use of books, in marshalling and analysis of authorities, in critical and independent thought regarding legal problems, and in accurate, concise expression.

MOOT COURT AND INTRODUCTION TO LAW

At the beginning of the school year, the First Year Class is introduced to the aims and methods of law study by means of lectures, suggested readings, and instruction in the use of law books. The class is also divided into Law Clubs for Moot Court work. During the autumn and winter each member engages in six intra-club arguments, and each club, through representative teams elected by their clubs, participates in three inter-club arguments before members of the faculty and members of the bench and bar. In the spring the two clubs, which have the highest records in the preliminary rounds, choose two representatives to participate in a final moot case before judges drawn from the courts of this and other States, and from the federal courts. The work affords training in the use of the law library, and in the drafting of briefs and the presentation of oral arguments.

EXAMINATIONS AND CLASS STANDING

Except in a few full-year courses, examinations are held at the end of each term in the work of that term. In all the work of the Law School the honor system prevails. It was instituted in 1907 at the request of the students.

In order to remain in good standing, a student must maintain substantially a C average. For poor work, he may be warned, placed on probation, or dropped from the school. Detailed provisions with respect to examinations and class standing are stated in the Rules for the Guidance of Law Students issued on registration day of the first term.

REGISTRATION FOR BAR EXAMINATIONS

The bar examiners of the various States require, in many instances, the filing of certain certificates or the taking of preliminary examinations, before entrance upon the study of the law. All students entering the Law School should consult the Secretary at once regarding these preliminaries. He will be glad to advise them how to satisfy the rules of the board of bar examiners of the State from which they come. Failure to take this step may result in the loss of much time.

DEGREES AND CERTIFICATES

BACHELOR OF LAWS DEGREE. The degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) is conferred upon all students who have met the entrance requirements, have been in attendance three years, and have satisfactorily completed eighty-two semester hours of work, which must include all the work of the first year and the required courses of the second and third years.

CERTIFICATE OF ATTENDANCE. Any student who has been in regular attendance upon the Law School, whether entitled to a degree or not, may on application to the Dean receive an official certificate of attendance, which states the time of his attendance, and, if desired, the measure of his attainments.

GRADUATE DEGREES IN LAW. The degrees Master of Laws (LL.M.) and Doctor of the Science of Law (J.S.D) are conferred upon students who do satisfactory graduate work in law. See the fuller statement on page 7.

EQUIPMENT

BOARDMAN HALL and MYRON TAYLOR HALL. Boardman Hall was erected in 1892 for the use of the Law School. In December, 1928, announcement was made of the gift of $1,500,000, by Myron C. Taylor, '94, for a new building for the Law School, to be known as Myron Taylor Hall. Plans for this building are now being drawn.

LAW LIBRARY. The Library of the Law School numbers more than 67,000 volumes and about 6,000 pamphlets, and is growing rapidly. In reports of the American state and federal courts, and in English, Scotch, Irish, Canadian, Australian, and British colonial reports, the law library is practically complete to date. The Earl J. Bennett Collection of Statute Law, provided for by the gift of Earl J. Bennett, LL.B. '01, embraces about 4,800 volumes of the session laws of the states, and is of unusual fullness and value. The library also has an adequate collection of text books, and complete sets of all law periodicals in English, digests, annotations and law encyclopedias. The records and briefs in the New York Court of Appeals are being currently added to the library.

GENERAL LIBRARY. The University Library, containing more than 800,000 volumes (exclusive of the Law Library), is accessible to law students.

GYMNASIUM. The University gymnasium, under the direction of the Professor of Physical Education, is open to students.

CORNELL INFIRMARY. The Infirmary, together with an endowment, was presented to the University in 1897, by Dean Sage and William H. Sage. The building, to which an addition has been erected, is equipped with all modern appliances for the care of patients, has a staff of trained nurses, and is open to all students.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

CORNELL LAW ASSOCIATION SCHOLARSHIPS. A limited number of scholarships have been established for the year 1930-31 by the Cornell Law Association from the net proceeds of the annual dues paid by its members and from funds given for the purpose by individual alumni or groups of alumni. These scholarships will be awarded, in the discretion of the Faculty, under rules prescribed by the Law Association.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS. Ten annual tuition scholarships have been established by the University to be awarded in the discretion of the Faculty of Law.

CORNELL LAW ASSOCIATION LOAN FUND. A small revolving loan fund has been created for the benefit of students in the Law School. Loans are made upon the recommendation of the Dean.

BOARDMAN THIRD YEAR LAW SCHOLARSHIP. A third year Law Scholarship of the value of one hundred dollars, the gift of Judge Douglas Boardman, the first dean of the Law School, is awarded annually in June to the second year student who has, in the judgment of the Faculty, done the best work to the end of his second year. It is available during the third year and is payable in the same way as are University undergraduate scholarships. This scholarship may be forfeited in case the Faculty is satisfied that the holder has not maintained a high standard of work, or has been guilty of any conduct unbecoming the holder of such a scholarship.

FRASER SCHOLARSHIPS. Two scholarships, of the value of one hundred dollars and fifty dollars respectively, the gift of an alumnus of the Law School in memory of Alexander Hugh Ross Fraser, former librarian of the Law School, are awarded annually about the beginning of the college year to third year students whose law course has been taken entirely in Cornell University. They are awarded to students who have most fully evidenced high qualities of mind and character by superior achievements in scholarship and by those attributes which earn the commendation of teachers and fellow students. The award is made upon recommendation of the third year class by vote, from a list of members submitted by the Faculty as eligible by reason of superior scholarship. The holder of the Boardman Scholarship is not eligible.

W. D. P. CAREY EXHIBITION. A prize of fifty dollars is offered for the year 1930-31 by William D. P. Carey, '26 L., of Hutchinson, Kansas, to be awarded to the student in the Cornell Law School who, in the judgment of the faculty, acquits himself most creditably in a competition designed to give the contestants an opportunity to exhibit not only their knowledge and reasoning ability, but their resourcefulness in analyzing and solving a problem with ample time and with free access to the library.

UNIVERSITY PRIZES. Various prizes in public speaking, debate, essay writing, etc., are offered annually. For details, the special pamphlet on prizes, to be obtained from the Secretary of the University, should be consulted.

TUITION AND FEES

Tuition. The fee for tuition for all law students is $400 a year, payable in installments of $220 at the beginning of the first term and $180 at the beginning of the second term.

A Matriculation Fee of $10 is required of every student at the time of his first registration in the University. Every candidate for admission must deposit twenty-five dollars with the University. If the candidate matriculates, the deposit will be credited to his account, $10 for the matriculation fee and $15 as a guaranty fund, which every undergraduate student is required to maintain and which is to be refunded upon his graduation or permanent withdrawal, less any indebtedness to the University. If admission is denied a candidate, the deposit is refunded in full at any time.

An Infirmary Fee of $5 is required at the beginning of each term. For a statement of the privileges given in return for this fee, see THE UNIVERSITY INFIRMARY on page 45 of the General Information Number. Students in the Summer Session have the privilege of admission to the Infirmary; they pay no fee in advance, but are charged for any services they receive.

A Willard Straight Hall Membership Fee of $5 is required at the beginning of each term. Its payment entitles the student to share in the common privileges afforded by Willard Straight Hall subject to regulations approved by the Board of Managers of the Hall.

A Physical Recreation Fee of $2 is required at the beginning of each term of every male student in the Law School. Its payment entitles students to the use of the University athletic fields, the Gymnasium and the use of a locker, with bathing facilities and towels, in the Gymnasium, the New York State Drill Hall, or the Schoellkopf Memorial Building.

A Graduation Fee is required, at least ten days before the degree is to be conferred, of every candidate for a degree. For the degree of LL.B. the fee is $10; for an advanced degree it is $20. The fee will be returned if the degree is not conferred.

Any tuition fee or other fee may be changed by the Trustees to take effect at any time without previous notice.

Further and more particular information as to fees will be found in the General Information Number, pages 32-36.

OTHER EXPENSES

Halls and lodgings for men. The University has six residential halls for men, offering accommodations for about 480 students. For particulars, address Manager of Residential Halls, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Many private lodging houses near the University offer furnished rooms, with heat and light, at rates ranging from $3 to $6 a week for a single room. Before he rents a room in a private house, a student should make sure, by a personal inspection, that the sanitary arrangements of the house are good, and he should especially insist on a good fire escape. The University publishes a list of lodging houses which have been inspected and found to be satisfactory in the above respects; the list is ready for distribution on August 15. New students, if they have not already engaged rooms, are advised to come to Ithaca and do so a few days before the day set for registration.

Books. In the Law School the books for the first year cost from $25 to $40. By the sale of books at the end of each year the cost of books for the ensuing year can ordinarily be almost entirely met.

CERTIFICATE OF VACCINATION

Every student matriculating in the University is required to present to the Registrar a satisfactory certificate of vaccination. This certificate is considered satisfactory only if it certifies to a successful vaccination within the last five years or certifies that at least three unsuccessful attempts at vaccination have been made within that same period.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SELF-SUPPORT

Law study demands so much of the student's time and energy, that it is highly inadvisable for a student in law to undertake the earning of a major part of his living expenses during the college year. Four students in the second and third year classes in the Law School are employed as assistant law librarians. The opportunities for remunerative work by students in Ithaca are limited, and the University cannot undertake to find employment for students, but it maintains a bureau which gladly undertakes to help them in finding employment. Further information is given in the General Information Number and in a leaflet entitled Self-Help, which the Secretary of the University will send free on request.

Further information upon points not covered by this Announcement can be obtained by addressing THE SECRETARY, CORNELL LAW SCHOOL, Ithaca, N. Y.
